	01/12/2006 Shri Ankit Agrawal, counsel for the petitioner. Shri Satish Gupta, Dy. Advocate General for the State. Heard. Smt. Anjaly Roy received medical treatment from 07/01/2005 to 17/02/2005 at Kolkata Medical Research Institute at Diamond Darvard Road, Kolkata and incurred expenditure of Rs.1,27,686/- (Rupees One lakh twenty seven thousand six hundred and eighty six only) on her treatment. Petitioner who is a retired employee and husband of Smt. Anjaly Roy, has filed this writ petition for a direction to the State Government to reimburse the amount incurred by him towards the medical treatment of his wife as also to direct the State Government to provide all medical facilities in the Government hospital or reimburse the medical bills of retired government employees or his family members. Petitioner who claims to be pensioner failed to demonstrate how he is entitled for reimbursement of the amount incurred by him towards treatment of his wife. In absence of any rules applicable to retired government employees which authorizes them to claim reimbursement, petitioner is not entitled for the relief prayed for, even otherwise, Government has its limitations and it can take care of health of its people to the extent resources and finances permit it. Therefore, the petition deserves to be dismissed and is accordingly dismissed.	Sd/- V.K.Shrivastava Judge
